Greeting Speech for the opening of the exhibition

by Boris Kochan_ president of the Deutscher Designtag

Dear Madam or Sir, dear Director of the Museum Fünf Kontinente, dear CEO of bayern design, which is the organizer of Munich Creative Business Week, Dr. Silke Clwaus, – it's a great honor for us that you took the extra time to be with us on your very tight schedule during this Designweek – dear ANBD President Prof. Youl Cho, dear ANBD Director Prof. Jee Hyun Kim, dear mediator between the Asian and Western Hemispheres, Prof. Chang Sik Kim, dear ANBD members, dear designers and artists who created posters for the group exhibition, dear designers and artists who have brought their works to Munich for 12 individual presentations, dear friends of outstanding design!

I would like to welcome you to the opening of the exhibition “Beyond Asia” in the Museum Fünf Kontinente, which is the State Ethnological Museum of the City of Munich. I am delighted to welcome such a large group of dedicated designers and artists from Asia here in Munich and thank you for the enthusiasm with which the Asian Network Beyond Design, or ANBD for short, has taken the hardships and costs of the long journey, the exhibition conception and design, the call for the design and collection of the 250 posters, as well as the exhibition setup in recent days.

As president of the Deutscher Designtag, I know very well what strength is in volunteer work, what all this can do – and I also know, that unfortunately there is often too little public recognition for it. That's why here and now again: Thank you very much!

At the same time, I would like to emphasize the great openness of Museum Fünf Kontinente in this cooperation. Its such a big opportunity to present this exhibition at an outstanding space and framework – in the middle of Munich. All this is not self-evident and unfortunately not normal, but here it is done! A big thank you to the head of the marketing department, Dr. Dorothee Schafer and the acting director of the house and head of the departments East Asia, Siberia, Central Asia, Dr. Bruno Richtsfeld with their teams. This exhibition is also the first participation of the Museum Fünf Kontinente in the MUNICH CREATIVE BUSINESS WEEK, which makes me very happy for several reasons: the Designweek is a platform that lives from the engagement of high-quality partners like the museum: the best thing that could happen for the Designweek are more and more cooperation with Munich institutions and museums (at the moment there are 216 partners with more than 250 events): in the guiding principles of Museum Fünf Kontinente has already been laid down a very close connection to design and this is evident in this exhibition: The museum collects everyday objects, ritual objects or works of art and they are in many cases »classic Design objects« that tell of the cultural wealth of humanity and I hope for the future, the participation of Museum Fünf Kontinente in the Designweek will become a new tradition.

At the end of my short welcome note allow me to say a few words about the exhibition and the initiative of the designers in Asia for a network like ANBD: For many people in Europe, Asia is not present in its enormous variety – the extreme historical and cultural differences down to the language and scripts something that is often guessed at tourist visits, but not really experienced. And there are endless European clichés that cloud the view... Again and again, I am impressed by the intensive efforts being made by designers and artists in Asia to self-assure themselves when dealing with other Asian cultures and supporting and learning from each other with great acceptance. And this does not stop at the borders of Asia! This exhibition, it's very fitting title "Beyond Asia", is both in this respect: a successful inner-Asian cooperation, which shows an enormous diversity and an engagement with the western world, which at the same time has a return to the Asian region.

One of the very early supporters of the MUNICH CREATIVE BUSINESS WEEK as well as President of the German umbrella organization for design associations, Deutsche Designtag, and, of course, as the one of the initiators of the only project in the world that is engaged in non-Latin scripts and typography called GRAN-SHAN, I wish much more such international cooperation's –gladly as part of the Munich Designweek!

Let us promote international exchange and bring identity, culture and enterprises into a better balance between local, regional and global.

Congratulatory Speech

by Youl Cho _ Chairman of ANBD

ANBD Special Exhibition at München

It is the first exhibition to be held outside of Asia.
Theme of ANBD Special Exhibition at München is 'Beyond Asia'.
Through the works of the same subject, ANBD wants to share how we see, interpret and express the subject in Asia.
The convergence of other genres, interactions with other generations and cultures, activities beyond existing frameworks and interpretations, challenges to their own works, and constant creative activities are always ANBD's practical task.
ANBD Special Exhibition at München will be the first exhibition of members made with the same theme as previous exhibitions.

Hello everyone.

Thank you very much for attending on this cold weather.

I am very pleased to join the Deutsch Creative Business Week in the country of Bauhaus. Munich, which I know, is the city of BMW, the city of Mercedes, the city of FC FC Bayern Munich, It is a city of culture, religion and art that is also famous as a city of religious reform. I am especially honored to be exhibiting at the Museum of Humanity, the oldest continental museum in the world.

ANBD Since 2008, it has started its exhibition activities and has been 11 years since this year. Established to make the artistic and cultural identity of Asia, ANBD is currently participating in 10 regions in 8 countries and annually exhibits over 1,500 works in four Asian regions. The Munich Special Exhibition is the first exhibition to be held in Europe across Asia. Therefore, I think that the theme "Beyond Asia" is more meaningful than the theme of the exhibition. In this exhibition, 250 artists participated in the group exhibition, and 15 artists participated in the solo exhibition and displayed directly. I would like to thank the artists who attended here in Munich.

ANBD will continue to expand its participating countries and entry areas next year, and will continue to build new networks to further expand its cultural identity, utilizing the characteristics of each region in Asia. Finally, I express my gratitude to the staff at Munich Design Week, and to the museum staff, specially to the Bayern Design Promotion Agency officials
I would like to thank Boris Kochan, Chairman of the German Design Society, once again,

Thank you very much.
